WINEMAKING IDEOLOGY
“We will not grow beyond our ability to handcraft wines of finesse, balance and length. There is no substitute for low yields, careful clonal selection, and viticultural and enological best practices. We are sensitive to high alcohol levels and overripe fruit flavors, preferring instead to target balanced ripeness and expression of our unique terroir. We make wine we most like to drink at home around the dinner table with family and friends.”
Regarding the 2014 Gruner Veltliner ‘Smaragd’, "An impressive wine from Southern Oregon - complex and juicy with minerality, white pepper, and white peach character, and bright acidity..."
